Reflections on 2015-2016 from Executive Director, Alicia Gonzalez

Dear Chicago Run Supporters,

This past year was the beginning of a new journey for Chicago Run as we saw an increased demand for our programs from several new groups, including pre-K teachers, high school students, and community-based non-profits. Meanwhile, we also had our biggest participation numbers this year with 17,228 students in 43 Chicago Public Schools, across 28 low-income Chicago communities. The demand is due in large part to the continued massive budget cuts in the Chicago Public Schools for sports programs, increased attention to the importance of physical activity as vital to students' academic performance, and the need for more youth development programs as the violence continues to escalate in many Chicago Run neighborhoods. But while the challenges seemed to grow, we channeled our energy into figuring out how we can better utilize sport for development and health, and delve deeper into our Chicago communities.

The result was the beginning of a new strategic vision, Chicago Run 2.0, which will officially launch in the 2016-2017 school year. The plan includes utilizing sport for social inclusion for immigrant/refugee communities; sport for economic and leadership opportunities; sport for peace and violence prevention; building an active foundation for early childcare centers and pre-K classrooms; and program expansion to community centers. Chicago Run 2.0 also includes two new key programs: Little Strides, designed to instill the daily habit of movement in pre-K classrooms [see page 7], and L.A.C.E. Up! (Leadership, Action, Community, Endurance), a leadership development program for high school Chicago Run Alumni. Both programs will be piloted in the Fall of 2016 in both schools and community centers.

We invite you to look through our Annual Report, highlighting some of the incredible work that our students, teachers, and families have done to create healthier and safer school environments. Our children and youth inspire us daily and we hope they will inspire you!

Lastly, none of this work would be possible without your unwavering commitment to Chicago Run and to the health of our Chicago children. We are truly grateful for supporters like you who have helped us further our mission and provided us with the resources to expand our health and wellness programs to more children and youth across the city. Thank you for being a part of our journey!

Warmly,

Alicia Gonzalez

COMMUNITY

Over 4,000 students, families, and school staff came together in Washington Park to celebrate the start of another healthy school year at the 2015 Fall Fun Run

A school-based program for students grades K-5 designed to instill the daily habit of running and physical activity. Students earn incentives (such as a folder or pencil case) as they reach certain milestones on the virtual marathon website (mychicagorun.org). Twice a year all participants are invited to come together for a 1-mile Fun Run to celebrate fitness, health, and community!

77,280 incentives
earned by students,

COMMITMENT

Winter field trip - Hip Hop Yoga led by non-profit partner Mindful Practices

CHICAGO RUNNING Mates

An after school program that meets three times a week designed to prepare middle school students to run in a local 5k race. The program utilizes running to break down racial and cultural stereotypes by bringing students from different neighborhoods together for training runs, volunteer events, field trips, and local races.

Running Mates students' final scores increased by almost double that of their national peers in the PACER fitness test*

230 students

182k hours of combined practice time

535 race entries in three local road races

*based on results provided by Up2Us Sports, a national Sports Based Youth Development organization

Teacher Spotlight

Marlene Avila

Marlene Avila is a 6th grade teacher at Sidney Sawyer Elementary School in the Gage Park neighborhood. Marlene has been involved with Chicago Run for the past four years, both as a Chicago Runners site coordinator and Running Mates after school coach. Marlene became both a site coordinator and coach because she wanted to find more ways to help students get involved in healthy, fitness-based activities around the school. As both a teacher and coach, she has seen firsthand the importance of physical activity for students both academically and socially. Marlene even inspired her cousin Lizette Salazar, a teacher at Morrill Elementary, to bring both Chicago Runners and Running Mates programs to her school. What Marlene enjoys most about Chicago Run is seeing the families come together for the yearly Fun Runs, as well as seeing the Running Mates students accomplish their goals during the races. "I really love the program and all Chicago Run's hard work, it really has impacted my life and that of my students!"

Chicago Run is grateful for teachers like Marlene who believe in the power of sports for leadership and youth development.

2016 Fundraiser Recap

The 8th annual Little Steps, Big Stars event was held on May 12, 2016 at The Ivy Room. The event raised over $174,000 with over 350 guests from the education, business, civic, and philanthropy sectors. The highlight of the evening included the presentation of the Go the Distance Awards to Arne Duncan, former Secretary of Education, and Karen Duncan [right, with Penny Pritzker, former Commerce Secretary, and Bryan Traubert, Chicago Run Co-Founder], and Marsha Cruzan, Regional President at U.S. Bank. Student awards were also presented to 8th graders Tyeshawn [left, with his aunt] and Quentin from Leslie Lewis Elementary School. Proceeds from the event allow Chicago Run to provide Chicago children with an opportunity to be active, build self-confidence, increase academic performance, and lead healthier lives.

Chicago Run is so grateful to all of these generous supporters!

Little Strides

Expanding Chicago Run Programs

Studies have shown the earlier a child is exposed to physical activity, the more likely they are to maintain a healthier lifestyle into adulthood. During the 2015-2016 school year the Chicago Run staff noticed more Preschool teachers interested in the Chicago Runners program. Staff members started visiting Preschool classrooms and tailoring the Runner's indoor fitness activities to the younger students. The 2015-2016 year focused on reworking the Chicago Runners curriculum to tailor it to the CPS STARTwell requirements and the GOLD Standard Curriculum. The new physical activity curriculum focuses on gross motor development, balancing, and body/spatial awareness. In the 2016-2017 school year Chicago Run will pilot

Little Strides, a new program designed to instill the importance of daily physical activity in early childhood classrooms.

THANK YOU, 2015-2016 SUPPORTERS

IMC Financial Markets Highlight

IMC Financial Markets is one of Chicago Run's newest corporate partners. Beginning with a significant donation to Chicago Run's capital campaign for office space in 2015 to continued program support in 2016, IMC understands the value in sports-based youth development and healthy, active living. Chicago Run looks forward to partnering further with IMC in the years to come and utilizing sport for improved health, academic achievement, and community-building.
